

Meet The Learning Needs of All Students

There are visual learners, auditory learners, tactile learners, analytical learners and plain old reluctant learners. Sprinkled in are students with attention deficit disorder and hyperactivity. Most of the research for neurology, psychology and education is suggesting that teachers (at all grade levels) implement more differentiated instruction. Offered cooperatively by "Communication Technology" and Portland State University, Continuing Education/Graduate School of Education.

Redefining Learning Ability

Managing Innovation: How great teachers inspire their students by engaging whole minds

Wonderful synergy emerged working together. The Synergy Pals Are Greater Than the Sum of Their Parts

In 1993, the Oregon Legislature mandated diversity and learning styles training for all Oregon teachers by 2002.

Here is the solution! Student-centered, differentiated instructional courses of the Friendly Universe Collection®.
